Fifteen Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Target is Your Money

Inflation has brought the need for financial assistance to many people in the middle-income bracket. Families consider many ways and means of making the dollar stretch, or, indeed, adding to the family income.

Some seek second or even third jobs. Others think they are making their income stretch by getting involved in deals that prove shady at best and downright fraud at worst.

San Diego's District Attorney Edwin L. Miller recently produced a 10-part study regarding hazards faced by the unwary consumer. He lumps them all under the heading of con games and white collar schemes. Either way, the consumer becomes the victim of a fraud and should be warned.

Here is a condensed version of some such schemes Miller warns about:

Prevalent now, says Miller, are frauds occasionally practiced in the normally legitimate commercial dealings in fields of home improvement, debt consolidation and mortgage loans. Often, one caper frequently includes features of all 3. Sadly, homeowners already heavily burdened with debt have been the victims.

Such a case is an individual whose home is in need of repair and who is financially distressed, but nevertheless responds to an advertisement promising such work on favorable terms.

To his delight he finds he is eligible for a loan sufficient to pay off all other debts as well as pay for the home improvement. He is told the one monthly payment will be less or no more than the combined payments he had been previously making.

But the promoter's true purpose is less than benevolent. The larger loan may stem from his intention to quickly sell the note at discount to a finance mortgage loan firm. He knows

This material is designed to warn readers of the many ripoffs that can — and do — happen in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

After this article was written but before it could be put into print, a Lemon Grove woman was involved in a "pigeon drop" in which she withdrew $17,000 from the bank. . . . But read about it on this page. See "Pigeon Drop Tried Here."

the amount of the note sufficiently exceeds the cost of the home improvement work and so offsets the note's resale discount.

A third party then assumes legal possession of the promissory note, collects payments and disowns responsibility for all misrepresentations that may have been made at its creation.

Thus, the low monthly payment feature may have excluded other not-so-pleasant aspects, such as:

—succeeded in having the victim sign the note in blank which the operator later filled in with total amounts and other vital data which is not necessarily in agreement with the initial impression left with the victim;

—failed to disclose the total amount to be repaid, including enormous interest charges;

—failed to disclose a "balloon" clause in the contract;

—failed to disclose that a mortgage was against the borrower's property.

The promoters may have relied on bewildering terms, numerous put-off tactics to forestall serious consequences when the improvement work falls in arrears, is poorly done, or not done at all.

There is a federally-permitted 3-day cooling-off period during which the agreement may be cancelled. Take those days and seek guidance, it is advised.

REPAIR SERVICE — Watch for the "lowball" treatment. Dishonest repairmen, autos for example, quote a ridiculously low estimate without any intention of making the repair at the quoted price.

Once the repairman has the auto in his possession, other malfunctions are "discovered" and the price is adjusted by the mechanic. The owner then faces a bill several hundred dollars more than the "lowball" quote.

The mechanic explains that he has a mechanic's lien on the car enabling him to hold the car until he is paid the inflated price.

With such complex goods as autos, radios and televisions, the consumer is usually at a disadvantage by the unscrupulous mechanic who charges for repairs that are unnecessary, or are, in fact, never performed.

Auto repair law requires that a written estimate be given. The shop cannot charge a higher fee than the estimate without the consumer's approval and unless it is given, the garage cannot sue in California courts for his fee.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY — These frauds include all schemes and deceptions concocted to attract victims into participating in an allegedly lucrative business. Vending machines, product dispensing, distributorships in limited geographical areas, multi-level sales organizations are a few.

Schemes may differ but all have basic identifiable similarities:

—a financial investment paid in advance is usually required.

—the victim's investment is covered by inventory of company equipment, inventory of company products, guaranteed buy back agreements or escrow accounts.

—the promoter convinces the victim that the parent company will work closely with him to assure his success. Promises often include management, marketing aid, training and saturation advertising.

Here is a check-list by which a fraud may be identified. Logic is a good guide or your local bank, chamber of commerce, the Better Business Bureau, or a business person in whom you have faith can bring the deal into perspective. Here are some areas where outright lies or misrepresentation may occur:

- Size of firm
 - Market experience and national sales
 - Public demand and need for a unique product
 - Anticipated sales and profits
 - Local marketing surveys
 - Ease of selling
 - Exclusive territory
 - Leads promised
 - You can't lose: Buy-back guarantee
 - Training is provided
 - Servicing or repair of product is provided
 - Victim must be bright, hardworking and honest
 - Offer open for a limited time only
 - Changing contract or deleting clauses before signing.
 - Saturation advertising will be paid for by the sponsor.
- A prevalent type of business in such frauds is work-at-home

PARK COMMISSIONER — Leo Bodin, a former candidate for city council meant it when he said he wanted to contribute to his community. He has agreed to serve as park and human services coordinator, if selected. In the photo, he discusses park needs with youngsters and an adult in the L.G. Park.

Bodin Volunteers for Park Post

Leo Bodin of 2770 Dennis lane, Lemon Grove, who was invited to volunteer his services as non-paid co-ordinator of Lemon Grove City recreation and human services, will face city council for approval Monday night.

Bodin, who ran 10th in the March incorporation election, if approved, said he would discuss needs for services and financing of recreation programs and facilities as well as for human care programs.

His assignment would begin October 1.

He is urging all clubs, groups, organizations and individuals to contact him to discuss ideas, opinions and needs.

Bodin's position will not be legislative. He said he would correlate the material he collects and pass his findings on to the city council for whatever action it deems proper.

He can be contacted at the Lemon Grove City Building at 3568 Main st. The phone is 464-6934.

The next council meeting will be at the L.G. Education Center at the corner of Lincoln and Kempf sts.

Gas and electric franchises, a rezoning on Crane st. and a beer-wine license transfer of LaRue's Old Time saloon and other matters will be considered.

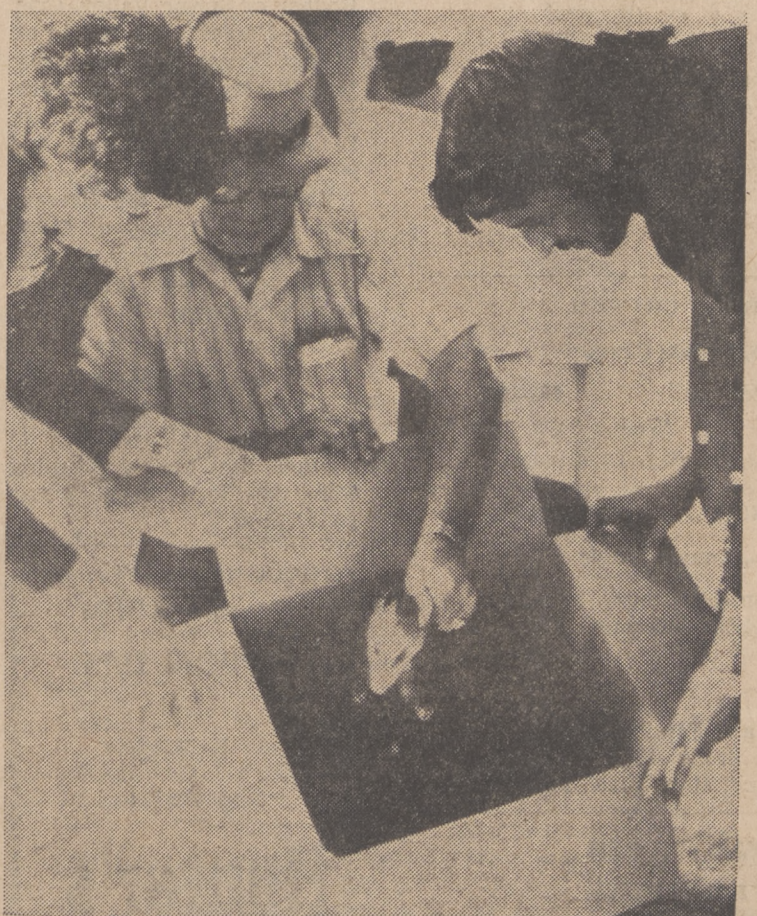

New Post Office For Spring Valley

The Spring Valley Post Office is going to move.

It will be built at the northwest corner of Sweetwater Springs blvd. and Austin dr., near Monte Vista High school.

Its 18,300 square feet of space is 3 times as large as the present at 1157 Sweetwater rd. which was occupied in 1962.

The new facility to be constructed at a cost of $923,289 will be occupied in June, 1978, according to S.V. Postmaster W. H. Fitzpatrick.

UNEXPECTED GUEST — A young o'possum wandered into Weedman's Carpet and Furniture, 3331 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, on Friday and nearly thwarted capture by crawling behind a wall in the store. The animal was finally captured by Lemon Grove Sheriff's Detectives Florence Helms and Robert G. Fuller and by Bob Housh, (center, holding the animal). The o'possum was later removed by the Animal Control Department.

L.G. Woman has $17,000 on line

'Pigeon Drop' Tried Here

By Max Goodwin

A 67-year old Lemon Grove woman, who requested anonymity, was shopping in Fashion Valley Friday when two attractive young ladies approached her excitedly.

One carried a package which she said contained $60,000 which they claimed they found in one of the stores. The money was wrapped in printed pornographic pictures. Obviously, the money was "tainted" and might not be claimed by the loser.

They asked the Lemon Grove woman's advice. One said she worked for an attorney and suggested that they ask him for guidance. The Lemon Grove woman agreed that this might be the best solution. The young ladies said the lady was so helpful they decided to cut her in for one third.

They drove to a place where the attorney supposedly had his office. The attorney's employee suggested that it would be better for her to talk to her boss along while the other women remained in the car.

She returned after a while showing a receipt for $60,000 explaining that her boss had said it wasn't very likely the money would be claimed because the owner might face a charge of tax evasion. But he insisted that each of the women put up $20,000 to guarantee that none of the money would be spent during the 90 days the money would be held by the attorney.

The obstacle for the Lemon Grove woman was that she had only $17,000 in her account at the Imperial S&L in Lemon Grove. But, being benevolent ladies, the other two finally agreed that $17,000 in cash would be enough of a guarantee.

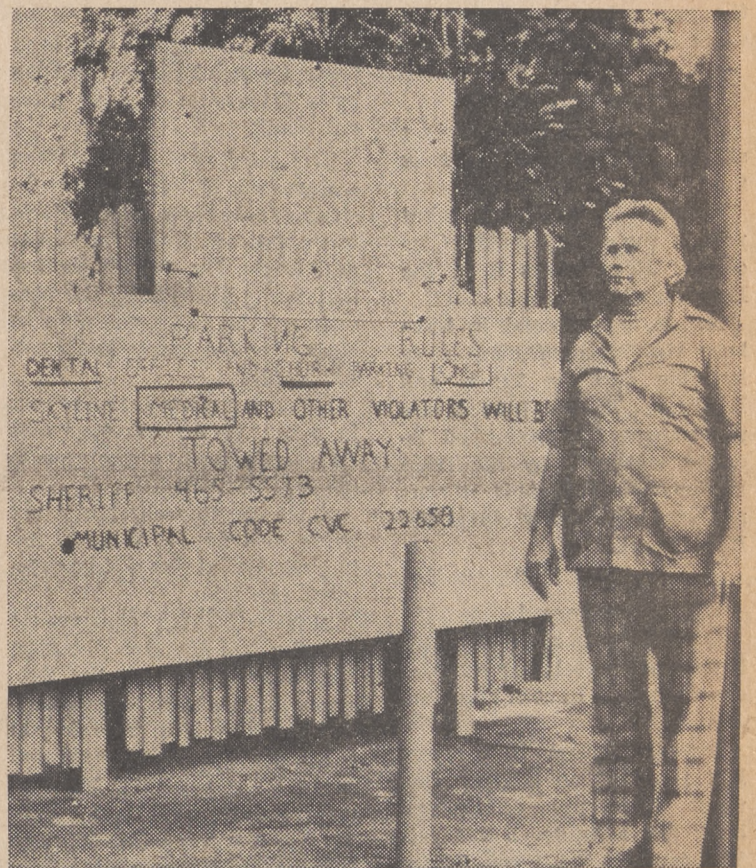

The three then drove to Lemon Grove and the Lemon Grove woman had little difficulty in drawing out her money while the other two waited in the parking lot but she had to explain to a bank official that the money was for a "family emergency."

She was tucking the $17,000 into her purse when a long-time friend spied her.

"Why are you so excited?" the friend asked.

She confided how she had struck it lucky and with her new-found friends and was hurrying to the attorney's

Dr. McLaughlin and his sign of protest

Dr. McLaughlin Opposes L.G. Methadone Center

Dr. Dennis McLaughlin, a dentist, whose offices are at 7445 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove, became an activist this week in opposing the creation of a methadone center in a building a few doors from there.

Dr. McLaughlin charges that several hundred addict visits a month for "treatments" at the center will create a traffic and parking problem along Skyline dr.

He also complains that foisting such a center in a residential neighborhood would subject families to objectionable sights.

One of his first acts was to erect the sign in the background. It reads:

Parking Rules
Dental office and (Skyline Wesleyan) church parking only.
Skyline Medical and other violators will be towed away.
Sheriff 465-5573
Municipal Code CVC 22658
Dr. McLaughlin said that a methadone center in a non-urban area is "an open sewer" that will attract undesirable dope addicts to an unsophisticated neighborhood. It was believed that a petition is being circulated asking the Environmental Protection Agency to ban the methadone operation.

Methadone is a substitute for heroin and cocaine and administered without cost to narcotic addicts on a scheduled basis.

McDonald's-Diabetes Bike Ride Held Sun.

The Fourth Annual McDonald's Bike Ride Against Diabetes for the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area will begin Sunday at McDonald's in Lemon Grove.

The ten-mile circuit begins on Broadway in Lemon Grove, traverses Massachusetts ave. to 65th. 65th street to Jamaica road, and circles back via Cardiff - Skyline - Kempf to Broadway.

Mrs. Madeline Tallian of Lemon Grove and Mrs. Dena Wilson of La Mesa have been named by the American Diabetes Association as route chairmen.

Riders' sponsors donate according to the number of miles ridden. Bicyclists may traverse the course as many times as they wish.

The three previous bike rides held in Southern California have attracted 42,000 riders and have collected more than $1.3 million for diabetes research, educational programs and summer camp for insulin-dependent children.

Council Proclaims Local PTA Week

Lemon Grove Mayor Jim Dorman has designated the week of October 1 through 8 as PTA membership week.

Several activities have been planned to promote membership in local PTA's and the designation won the unanimous support of the Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees in Tuesday night's meeting at Palm Junior High.

Property Tax Shock in Mail

First the good news.

Your property value has increased dramatically during the past 12 months.

Beginning tomorrow, you will be able to learn just how dramatic the increase is.

That's when County Tax Collector James E. Jones begins mailing property tax bills.

The total tax bill is $589 million. It's up $58 million—just shy of 10%.

Look at it this way — your bill is minuscule compared to the total.

There's An Answer

By Mr. and Mrs.
Norman Vincent Peale

Shy
Q. I have a problem with shyness.

I can't cooperate with other people and can't get along with them very well. I do not have a friend in school. It seems people in school are stuck-up sometimes, and they seem to be in their own group. I don't know what to say to them since I'm not outgoing and feel out of place.

Many times I feel nervous when alone. I get nervous feeling in my stomach. I'm 17 years old and live on a farm. We don't have much money.

Would you please send me your "Self-Improvement Handbook?"

A. Any reader can have a copy of the handbook free of charge by writing Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Shyness is a form of abnormal self-consciousness. If you think of yourself too much, this turns people off. They will avoid anyone who is concerned only with their own feelings.

To effect a change, you will need to do a definite revision of your thinking and attitudes. You can start this process by realizing there may be others who feel the same as you do.

Make it your job to help them by being their friend. This will give you practice in outgoing friendship and will soon result in bringing friends to you.

It will make you a part of the group for groups are always open to happy people.

Where Was Eden?
J. You may think this is a silly question but to me it is not.

I want to know on what part of the earth was the Garden of Eden? Was it in the Holy Land?

A. It is supposed to have been in Mesopotamia, near Babylon and the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers. Indeed, one passes over its presumed location enroute by air from Karachi to Baghdad. It was not in what is now called the Holy Land.

Divorced
Q. I had to leave my husband and I feel desperate. I don't want to have a black future.

I went through the divorce last year but in a weak moment took my ex-husband back for a while. I had left him four or five times before then.

He doesn't control himself and hits me. I know I cannot take abuse ever again.

My 7-year-old daughter goes into hysteria and withdraws into herself. I am desperate for suggestions. Can you help me?

A. Your wishy-washy attitude toward your ex-husband will get you nowhere.

If you know you can't take the chance again, don't do it. No matter how desperate you feel, it might dangerous to jeopardize your daughter's mental health.

Your future need not be black. You and God together can make it great!

There are organizations to help women in your predicament. To find the closest one to you, write to AWAIC (Abused Women's Aid in Crisis), G.P.O. Box 1699, New York, NY 10001. Family counseling with a local minister or counseling agency would also help you choose ways out of your situation.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Skyline Church Opens Up An Estate Planning Office

Skyline Wesleyan Church of Lemon Grove has established a "Ministry of Christian Financial and Estate Planning", a service which will help people draw up their wills.

The service compiles information needed for wills and estate and then issues a report breaking this information down into four sections.

The first section will be an outline of information used in the report. Included is present finances, goals, and objectives of the person seeking the service.

The second part entails a "new financial plan preceded by a discussion of your present plan".

The third part deals with a comparison of the first two to show "how each plan affects taxes and other cost factors." And lastly, the fourth section has charts illustrating the benefits of the proposed plan in caring for the family and meeting goals.

When completed, the report is taken to an attorney and fully explained to the person seeking the service.

Since the Church cannot act as an attorney, it is up to the individual's attorney to implement the plan.

Skyline Church charges no fee for the estate planning and a pamphlet on the program states, "Skyline Wesleyan's function is to provide you with financial and spiritual counsel and anything that can be construed as a solicitation for Skyline Wesleyan Church will be diligently avoided."

Hired to handle the service for Skyline was attorney Robert L. Coffey. Coffey, according to Skyline's pastor the Rev. Orval C. Butcher, formerly handled a similar program for the Great Commission Foundation of Campus Crusade for Christ.

In a letter to members of the Church, the Rev. Butcher

Adventist Revival Begins Saturday

The La Mesa Seventh-day Adventist Church will host C. Lloyd Wyman, evangelist, for a two week crusade at the church 4207 Spring street, La Mesa.

The theme of the two week crusade is "Your Health and Happiness". Wyman's opening topic scheduled for 5 p.m. Saturday will be "The Coming Famine in America".

Subsequent meetings held Sundays through Fridays at 7:15 p.m. and Saturday at 5 p.m. will include subjects as "Poor Man's Psychotherapy" and "We Don't Have to be Good."

Also during the meetings local doctors and dentists will speak on health related subjects.

A free nursery is available.

The Rev. Wyman directs the ministry of Seventh-day Adventist Churches in California, Nevada, Arizona, Utah and Hawaii.

said, "I would like to emphasize that this service is available at absolutely no cost to all of our people, although the same type of service is being offered by commercial institutions at a cost of thousands of dollars.

"It should be mentioned," the Pastor continued, "that we will not undertake to prepare any wills or other legal instruments. You will still need a lawyer for that.

"But we will help you determine what your will should provide. And by collecting and organizing basic information, we are doing some of the spadework for your lawyer and we may be able to help you avoid any unnecessary legal expense.

"We hope that offering this service to you is one more way for us to be obedient to the Lord's command and to support one another," the Rev. Butcher concluded.

G'mont Hospital Blood Services Given Okay

Grossmont District Hospital has been notified by the American Association of Blood Banks that it has been re-accredited for another two year period.

This certifies the level of medical-technical and administrative performance within the blood bank and transfusion service meets or exceeds the standards established by the American Association of Blood Banks.

Richard H. Walker, M.D., president of AABB emphasized that "the patient who receives a blood transfusion at Grossmont Hospital can have full confidence that the hospital has voluntarily met high standards of procedures and is continually striving to offer the best service possible."

TO PERFORM — Gospel music singers, Re'Generation, will perform Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Skyline Wesleyan Church, 1345 Skyline drive, Lemon Grove. The group, under the direction of Derric Johnson, has made several appearances at Skyline Wesleyan as well as 160 shows at Walt Disney World in Florida, more than 1,500 performances at other churches and colleges, and have performed for the legislatures of California, Tennessee, West Virginia, Indiana, and Florida.

PRETTY SISTERS — Little Sherry Gundersen measures the length of her sister's dress as they get ready to participate in La Mesa's Oktoberfest Friday and Saturday. Big sister is 'Charley' Gundersen, Miss Lemon Grove. Both young ladies will ride in the parade Saturday.

This Week's RECIPE

Steak Au Poivre

The world's most popular spice, a spice which has peppered food for 23 centuries and prompted Oliver Goldsmith to utter: "Who pepper'd the highest was surest to please" is featured in this week's recipe.

Pepper was an essential disguise all through the eras when foods were so tough and rancid. So valuable was the spice, when Rome fell in the 5th century A.D., the exorbitant ransom included 3,000 pounds of pepper.

Steak Au Poivre features peppercorns, a pickling spice.

- STEAK AU POIVRE
- 4 8-ounce minute steaks (about one inch thick)
 - 1½ tablespoons peppercorns, cracked
 - salt to taste
 - 4 teaspoons margarine
 - 2 teaspoons brandy extract (optional)
 - parsley sprigs

Preheat broiler. Press peppercorns into both sides of steak with heel of hand. Let stand 10 minutes. Place steaks on rack in broiling pan; broil 4 inches from heat about 10 to 12 minutes. Salt to taste. Turn steaks and broil five to six minutes or to desired cook.

Remove steaks to a hot platter and top each one with one teaspoon margarine and ½ teaspoon brandy extract (if desired). Garnish with parsley and makes four servings.

Prices Drop On Popular Steaks

There is good news again for steak lovers. Post summer local prices on their favorite cut of meat have dropped again.

The California Beef Council reports San Diego prices on sirloin and t-bone steak have dropped 71 and 21 cents a pound respectively since August 11.

Other cuts of meat such as ground beef at 54 cents a pound, round steak at 99 cents a pound and chuck roast at 79 cents a pound have remained unchanged.

The study, completed September 8, determined the average price per pound from prices gathered locally.

But one California Beef Council official was not very joyous with the news.

"It's disheartening," said Council Manager Robert Rolston, "to watch cattle producers lose money month after month with no relief in sight in the near future."

'Bird' Opens Coronado

"The Secretary Bird," a provocative comedy of morals and manners, opens at the Coronado Playhouse October 6 and will run through November 20, with curtain at 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and 7:30 p.m. Sundays.

William Douglas Home's play revolves around the intricacies of a situation created by a married couple, the wife's lover, the husband's secretary and a nosy housekeeper.

The cast includes Burt Miller, Peggy Markham, Julia Mills, Brian C. Cantwell and Patricia Wilson and is directed by William R. Bruce. For reservations call 435-4856.

Approximately 3,000 PTA members are expected to attend the 78th Annual California State PTA Convention October 11 to 14 in S.D. to discuss proposed PTA actions and learn about PTA activities in Sacramento.

Aid to rape victims and their families, child pornography and location of cigarette vending machines are subjects of some of the resolutions to be considered by delegates to the convention.

Program-Evaluation Post Goes to Ruby B. Yaryan

Ruby Buenz Yaryan has been named director of the County of San Diego's Office of Program Evaluation (OPE) with an annual salary of $33,176. The announcement was made by David K. Speer, County chief administrative officer.

Yaryan will begin her new duties November 14. She replaces Don Fisk who has served as acting director since March of 1976.

She was most recently director of the evaluation division for the California Regional Medical Program based in Oakland. Prior to that she served as chief of the evaluation branch for the Office of Criminal Justice Planning in Sacramento.

She has also worked as staff director for the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in Washington, D.C. and has also worked as director of social psychology and communications research for the Scientific Analysis Corp. in San Francisco.

Yaryan is a graduate of Stanford University with an A.B. degree in psychology. She also earned a Ph.D. degree from the University of London in London, England.

OPE reviews the effectiveness and the efficiency of assigned County programs and provides alternatives for improving program performance where warranted. The Office is directly responsible to the Board of Supervisors.

Cosmetics Attacked In Consumer Report

Claims made by cosmetic manufacturers that their products contain "secret ingredients" is the subject of a consumer booklet out from the Consumer Information Center in Colorado.

According to research done by the Food and Drug Administration, chemical analysis of cosmetics shows many are of the same substance — vegetable oil.

"The face cream you buy may be expensive because you're paying for a pretty jar, an appealing fragrance, or a feeling."

To help you make an informed purchase without parting with more money than necessary, the Federal Food and Drug Administration has a free reprint available. For a free copy of "Cosmetics — The Substances Beneath the Form" send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 684E, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Mercy Auxiliary Fetes Volunteers

The annual awards luncheon honoring volunteers of Mercy Hospital and Medical Center Auxiliary will be held at 11 a.m., on Monday, October 10, at Harborside Restaurant.

90 awardees from San Diego, El Cajon, La Mesa, La Jolla, Spring Valley, Lemon Grove, and Crest have donated over 30,000 hours of service, and will be recognized for their efforts.

The awardee is Mrs. Marion Berg of San Diego with over 10,000 hours.

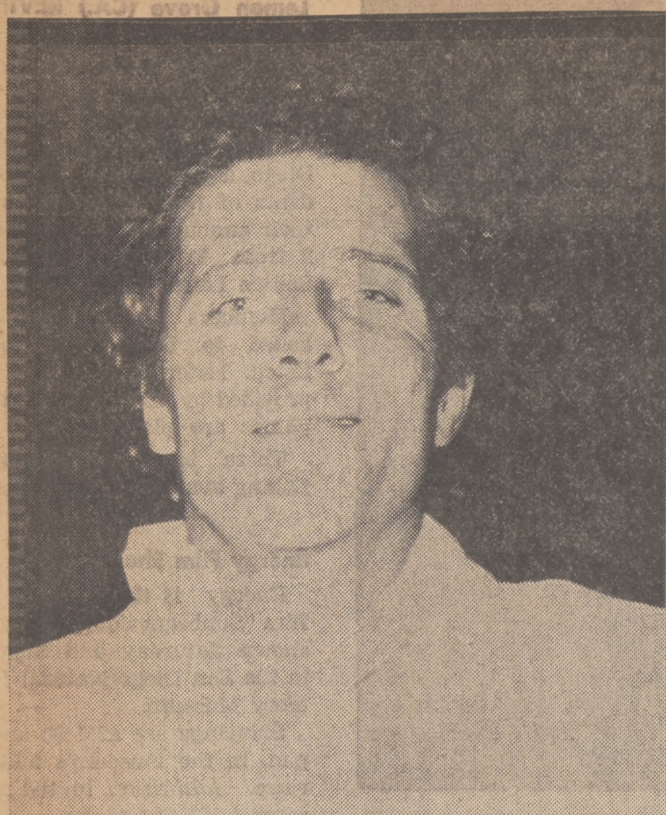

Included on the program will be the "Second Time Around" fashion show with Mercy Auxiliary members modeling clothes to be sold at their annual "Boutique on the Racks" rummage sale which will be held on November 3, 4, 5 in the College building at Mercy Hospital. Guest commentator at the fashion show will be Judy 'Heda' Miller.

Women Voters Fill Policy Post

La Mesa resident Sandra Metcalf was recently appointed to the Public Policy Committee of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Metcalf, a Legislation and Action chairperson for the League of Women Voters of Grossmont-Cajon Valley, was selected because of her involvement with the humanities and her attendance at a recent humanities seminar in Washington, D.C.

The Public Policy Committee meets quarterly in the nation's capital to review proposals for federal humanities grants in the area of public policy.

CRASH VICTIM — Ted Kallos, 37, died Saturday night at Grossmont hospital following a 2-car crash in the semi-main event at Cajon Speedway. His car spun out on the 16-lap of the race scheduled for 20. He was struck broadside by an oncoming racer whose throttle was stuck in the full-open position. He is survived by his wife and 5 children.

Crash Kills S.V. Man In Cajon Speedway Race

Ted Kallos, of 10229 Del Rio rd., Spring Valley was doing what he liked best. For 13 years he had been racing in the Saturday night events at Cajon Speedway.

His last race ended on the 16th lap of the 20-lap semi-main Saturday night.

Kallos, 37, spun his racer in the south turn and was hit on the driver's side full bore by Ernie Bartley's Camaro. The throttle was stuck in a full open position in Bartley's car.

Kallos was transported from the track to Grossmont hospital where he died. He operated a gasoline filling station and alignment shop in National City. He is survived by his wife Jerry and 5 children.

Kallos achieved his goal in 1975 when he won a main event.

The semi-main was called after the crash.

The main event Saturday was won by Ron Esau of Lakeside — his 6th of the season and his 3rd in a row.

The night of tragedy closed the super stock point season but 3 special events are planned for October.

The 3rd annual open competition for super stocks will get underway Saturday at 8 with qualifications set for 6:30.

On October 8, powerful CRA sprint cars will compete in their only event scheduled this year at Cajon.

The season closes October 22 with the twin 50's for super stocks and midgets.

Can Am Sports Race Cars Back For Grand Prix

Can-Am sports racing cars return to action after a 3-year absence from Riverside International Raceway in the Pepsi-Cola California Grand Prix Weekend October 13-16.

Revival of the popular series of professional sports car races now known as the SCCA Citicorp Can-Am Challenge will add to a weekend already crowned by the 5th running of the International Race of Champions.

Such international stars as Patrick Tambay of Cannes, winner of 4 Can-Am events this season and a hearded super star of the future in Formula 1, and Peter Gethin of London, perennial European Formula 5000 champion, will head a field that includes former Can-Am and Trans-Am champion George Follmer, former Indianapolis 500 rookie of the year Graham McRae and up-and-coming American road racer Elliott Forbes-Robinson.

IROC will add even more luster to the billboard of stars with the likes of four-time Indy 500 winner A. J. Foyt, California 500 champ Al Unser, USAC's newest Citicorp Cup national driving champion Tom Sneva, plus Johnny Rutherford, Richard Petty, Cale Yarborough, Mario Andretti and more.

The three major races, two IROC sprints and the Can-Am features, will be held on Riverside's 2.55-mile Grand Prix Circuit. One 76-mile IROC race will be held on Saturday, October 15, and the other two races on Sunday.

2 Players to Aid State's Net Game

The S.D. State U. basketball team picked up two talented players when Marcus Hamilton and Jim Ranson enrolled in school.

Both Hamilton, who played last season at Pepperdine, and Ranson, who played at the U. of Denver, are in school now but will sit out the 1977-78 season and be eligible for the 1978-79 campaign when the Aztecs venture into the Western Athletic Conference.

Hamilton was a highly recruited prep player out of Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles where he played for new Aztec assistant coach John Sneed. While at Verbum Dei, Hamilton was a 3-year starter, all-league 2 years and All-CIF and a prep — All-America as a senior. In that senior season he averaged 17 points and 12 rebounds a game.

The 6-7, 210 Hamilton played in 25 games for Pepperdine as a freshman last year, averaging 4.2 points and 3.1 rebounds. He was named the WCA Conference Player of the Week for his efforts in games against Seattle and Portland. In those games he had 21 points and 11 rebounds against Seattle and 17 points and 11 rebounds against Portland.

He hit on 47.7 per cent of his shots from the floor during the season and .541 per cent from the free throw line.

Ranson, 6-5, 195, was a two sport star at Denver. He played two seasons of varsity basketball, averaging 11.2 points both season and 4.4 rebounds as a freshman and 3.6 as a sophomore. He handed out 135 assists as a frosh and 160 as a soph. He played in 54 games in two seasons for the Pioneers.

Ranson was an All-State prep basketball player while at Pueblo South High School in Colorado.

Kings Meet Canucks At Arena Saturday

The Los Angeles Kings' venture to San Diego country for the first time in 6 years Saturday will mark the halfway point in the pre-season schedule for Coach Ron Stewart.

The Kings tangle with the Vancouver Canucks at 8 p.m. in the Sports Arena and tickets are now on sale at the Sports Arena Box Office and all Sports Arena tickets agencies.

Stewart greeted 41 hopefuls at training camp in Los Angeles last week and was impressed.

"The players came into camp in better shape than I thought they would and this enabled us to get into our scrimmages quicker giving me more time to learn each player and assess his particular talents," said Stewart.

The additions of Ernie Hicke from the Minnesota North Stars, Pete Stembkowski from the New York Rangers, Charlie Simmer from the Cleveland Barons and Randy Manery from the Atlanta Flames has given the Kings their most competitive camp in ten years.

"Because the competition is so keen," said Stewart, "our practices have been very spirited and intense. This is the way it should be. Many of the positions are wide open and have to be earned. Competition gets us the best players."

Stewart put together Hicke and Marcel Dionne and Glenn Gould last week in what many observers think will be the best offensive line in Kings history. Hicke, leading goal-scorer for the North Stars last season with 30 markers, and Gould, a Montreal Canadian acquisition who tore his knee ligaments in training camp a year ago, give the Kings speed, firepower and unselfish playmaking.

The second line of Butch Goring, Mike Murphy and Tommy Williams was the Kings best line in history last season scoring 90 goals and 220 points collectively to break all records.

Stewart plans to carry only five defensemen and play two pairs instead of the three that former coach Bob Pulford did. While Bob Murdoch and Gary Sargent appear to lead the pack, veterans Larry Brown, Neil Komadoski, Dave Hutchison and newcomer Manery are fighting for the other three spots.

The Kings-Vancouver game at The Sports Arena is the fourth of eight Kings pre-season games and the second of four encounters with the Canucks.

Shriners' October 22 Grid Game Aids Children

SAN DIEGO — When the Aztecs of San Diego State University run onto the field at San Diego Stadium October 22 to battle the University of Nevada at Las Vegas Rebels in the 33rd Shrine football game, they will be upholding the theme, "Where strong legs run that weak legs may walk."

The "weak legs" represent the children receiving healing and restorative treatment at one of the 19 orthopedic units or three burn institutes the Shrine of North America operates and which are open to any child under 16, regardless of race or creed, whose parents or guardians are unable to pay for necessary medical care.

One hundred per cent of net profits from the game, sponsored by Al Bahr Shrine Temple, or approximately 40 per cent of gross goes to the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children.

In addition to participating in this Shrine game, Aztec head coach Claude Gilbert will lend his support to the 53rd annual Shrine East-West All-Star football game at Stanford Stadium Dec. 31 when he will be an assistant coach for the West squad.

Al Bahr illustrious Potentate Glenn Corey said many children from San Diego county and neighboring Tijuana have been among the more than 200,000 treated since the first Shrine hospital opened 25 years ago.

Shriners founded 3 burn institutes for children in the early 1960s, modeling them after the U.S. Army Institute of Surgical Research in San Antonio, which was then the nation's only specialized burn facility. The institutes are located in Cincinnati, Boston and Galveston.

According to Dr. Bruce G. MacMillion, the Cincinnati institute's chief of staff, a child used to have an even chance of surviving burns over 40 per cent of his body; today he has the same chance of survival with 80 per cent of his body burned.

Corey said the Oct. 22 event will again include a 45-minute, pregame display of pageantry, with Shrine units appearing in addition to contingents from area military bases and bands from San Diego and Imperial county high schools.

A feature of half-time activities will be the traditional Shrine fireworks display and the introduction of a former patient at the Los Angeles unit of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Crowd-Pleasers Return To S.D. Coliseum Ring

A 6-bout card is scheduled for the S.D. Coliseum Friday night starting at 8:15.

A 10-round lightweight main event features "Negro" Campos, Jr. lightweight champion of Baja California who is in a return engagement with Teodoro Pineda of Mexicali.

At the end of a close decision for Campos on September 16, fans showered money onto the ring — the fans way of hearty approval.

A 6-round semi-main has the Hoover High school featherweight, 18-year old Spud Murphy, taking on Miguel Ruiz of National City. In a scrap between Murphy and Miguel Mesa 2 weeks ago, the fans also tossed money for their outstanding effort.

Bert Lee of Campo returns for 5 rounds in his middleweight division against Ronnie Turner of L.A.

Robbie Bryant, an Ocean-side heavyweight fights Paul Murray of Southgate in a 4-round heavyweight confrontation.

The night's opening bout will be an amateur scrap between an 18-year old explosive redhead, Harry Scheid, a Mt. Miguel High school student. He meets Julian Fuentes of Guantanamo, Cuba.

Parliamentary Law Seminar Held Sat.

A one-day workshop on parliamentary law will be offered from 8:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m., Saturday in the Grossmont College Board Room by the California State Association of Parliamentarians and the Grossmont Community College District's Office of Community Education.

Designed for officers and members of fraternal, religious, political and labor organizations, as well as service clubs, veterans' associations or other deliberative assemblies, the workshop will feature the principles of parliamentary law and procedures.

Registration fee for the workshop is $5 and may be secured by calling 223-1360.

Rancho Bernardo Course Chosen For Crosby/Honda Golf Classic

The Kathryn Crosby/Honda Civic Golf Classic, which attracts the largest field for any tour event, will be played March 15-19 at Rancho Bernardo Inn and Golf Course, it was jointly announced by American Honda Motor Co., Inc., and the Ladies Professional Golf Assn.

The purse is $165,000, identical to that of last spring's inaugural and the second largest on the LPGA tour.

Kathryn Crosby, wife of Bing Crosby whose annual golf outing at Pebble Beach is one of the sport's major events, again will serve as honorary chairperson.

"We are extremely pleased to continue our involvement in women's golf and to be part of the LPGA tour," said Cliff Schmillen, national sales manager of the sponsoring American Honda Motor Co. "We are extremely enthusiastic concerning the Rancho Bernardo site and believe the facilities are ideal to conduct a tournament of this stature."

Bob Welsh, executive director of the event, said that Kathryn Crosby again will conduct her Tee Party the final two days of the 72-hole tournament. More than 30 celebrities will be paired after 36 holes with the low 60 scorers on Saturday and Sunday, allowing the weekend gallery to see all their favorites including Bing Crosby who is expected to participate.

"People enjoy watching the celebrities along with the professional and by joining them for the Saturday and Sunday rounds we're allowing more fans the opportunity of seeing them both," Welsh said.

It also was announced that Saturday and Sunday play will be telecast live nationally. The program, one hour Saturday and one and one-half hours or to conclusion on Sunday, has been syndicated to nearly 90 stations.

Welsh said that the beneficiary of the event will be the Children's Hospital and Health Center of San Diego.

"The women's auxiliary of the Children's Hospital and Health Center will be very active in the tournament and we are delighted to have this association with such an outstanding group representing such a worthy cause," Welsh said.

Riverside Prize Is AMA Crown

American Motorcycle Assn's Grand National Championship — the Camel Pro Series — is swinging into its final stages, the Riverside Superbike International Saturday and Sunday becomes one of the most critical races of the entire season. Yamaha team leader, Kenny Roberts, is locked into a four-way battle for the Grand National Championship title with Harley Davidson team men, Jay Springsteen and Ted Boody along with Gary Scott who is sponsored by daredevil motorcyclist, Evel Knievel.

Roberts has won four of the five National Championship road races this year and finished second in the fifth one but his record on the dirt tracks has not been good owing to development problems with his new monoshock-chassis Yamaha.

On the other side of the coin, the Harley Davidsons that have dominated dirt-track racing do not usually feature in road race events.

Therefore, Riverside represents what is realistically Roberts' last chance to score winner's points in the remaining races of the season and he'll be out to take full advantage of that.

To try and trim down that advantage, Harley Davidson team chief, Dick O'Brien, has made a surprise move and will enter Springsteen in the Riverside event on one of the roaring four-stroke Harleys that last ran in National competition some three seasons ago.

"They are not as fast as the Yamahas" said O'Brien, "but are capable of adding some valuable points to Jay's tally."

This will be Springsteen's first National Championship road race ever and the very fact that the young National Champion is set to contest Riverside is evidence of the heat of the 1977 Championship battle.

One of the few 72-hole events on the LPGA tour, the Crosby/Honda tournament will be preceded by a one-day Pro-Am play.

Nearly 110 women pros participated last March, including all the leading money winners, and a similar field is assured for next year. They included Sandra Palmer, Hollis Stacy, JoAnne Corner, Jane Blalock, Laura Baugh, Sally Little, Jan Stephenson, Mickey Wright, Debbie Austin, Carol Mann and Kathy Whitworth.

"No golfer is going to pass up the Kathryn Crosby/Honda Civic unless she is injured," said Stacy, 1977 Women's Open champion who was present at the announcement. "It's a marvelous event and everybody enjoyed the format of playing with celebrities the final two days. There are few, if any, tournaments that are given the high status as this event, especially after only one year. And now with television, the importance of the tournament is even higher."

The Rancho Bernardo layout features three lakes, oversized greens and rolling fairways. The area hosted the 1964 San Diego Open which was won by Art Wall.

S.V. Racer Holds Lead At SB Track

Ken Snelling, lapping almost everyone in sight in a 30-lapper for super stocks last week but the victory didn't count where it counted most.

It was a non-points special, so the Bonita blitz didn't make any headway in his late surge to overtake John Cartwright for the SBRA super stock car crown.

But the points are back Friday night, said promoter Don Basile, when the supers share another busy program with the street stockers on South Bay Park Speedway 117's quarter mile dirt oval. Trials begin around 7 and the first race will be set for an 8:30 p.m. start.

Cartwright, the Spring Valley veteran who has held the super stock car points lead most of the season, has 2,115 points to Snelling's 1,830 while third-place Jim Pavlick, also of Spring Valley, is not far away with 1,805.

In the street car ranks, Dave Olson of Chula Vista continues to make impressive gains and will be bidding for a third feature victory although points leader Don Hicks of National City will be back. Jim Brown of Spring Valley also will see action.

Fish Prizes Set At Lake Cuyamaca

In the past month Lake Cuyamaca has stocked 5,500 pounds of trout and weekly plants are scheduled throughout October. The hint of autumn weather brings with it better fishing. Access for shore fishing has greatly improved.

Trout fishing has been especially productive during the early mornings and late evenings near the log boom. Favorites are silver or gold lures, salmon eggs and cheese with many limits being taken.

Catfishing has been great! Since September 1, eleven catfish over ten pounds have been taken — the largest was 18½ pounds. Cut mackerel is the favorite bait.

During October, weekly prizes will be awarded for the largest trout caught and for the heaviest stringer of trout. The prize will be a $10 gift certificate for bait or tackle from the Cuyamaca shop. Best catch of the month in each category will receive an inscribed trophy.

Duck hunting season will open at Lake Cuyamaca on Wednesday, November 16. Hunting will be on Wednesday and Sunday mornings from legal hunt time until Noon. The season will end on January 22. There will be no hunting on Christmas or New Year's Day. Reservations may be made by calling (714) 765-0515. The restaurant at Lake Cuyamaca will be open for breakfasts on hunt days.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

I've been ducking going on a diet for a long time, but now I gotta do it. It's a matter of principle. My country needs me.

For who do not know about such things, October 13 is National Uniform Day. The Chief of Naval Operations has asked all Navy Men, active, reserve and retired, to wear their uniforms.

Which brings up a problem. How do I get into mine. I retired more than 10 years ago and my uniform has been gathering dust in my steamer trunk for lo, these many years. I tried them on two years ago and the damn things had shrunk.

"I guess I'll have to lose a little weight," I told my wife. The Chief of Naval Operations wants us all to wear our uniforms on Uniform day and us Chiefs stick together."

"Oh, dear," answered my wife. "You'll never get into your old uniform. You're too fat."

"Yeah, Dad," piped in the 11-year old. "I don't know who that Chief of Operations is, but he must be off his bird. You're too fat."

"Huh!" I said. "Fat! Me fat? Husky maybe. Burly, even. Or robust. But fat? Huh!"

"Well dear," soothed my wife. "You are a lot bigger now than when we got married."

"And you buy your clothes at the Fat Man's Store," added the 11-year old boy.

"That's the Big Person's Shop," I corrected. "And I can't help it if most stores just carry children's sizes. You can't get normal sizes anywhere. Try to buy a shirt with an 18-inch neck or a size 50 coat. Especially with a 32-inch sleeve. Nobody carries them."

"Except the hippo store," cracked my son, who is gonna get his.

"Mind your manners," instructed his mother. "You just have more Daddy to love."

"More than the whole sixth grade put together," he laughed.

"You're gonna get yours," I promised him. "I just can't wait for you to grow up so I can belt you in the chops."

I dug through the old steamr locker and retrieved my dress blues. I had them cleaned and pressed just two years ago when I thought of wearing them on Uniform Day. They needed cleaning again.

"I guess these things just can't hold a crease," I said. "And maybe you'd better let the pants out a little."

"Oh, honey, I can't," said my wife. "I let them out as far as they would go before you got out of the Navy 10 years ago. There's nothing left to let out."

"Here, let me try them on," I said, removing my slacks and running a leg into the uniform pants."

I got them on, but they were a bit snug.

"You'll turn blue if you try to button them," laughed the 11-year old.

"I got this far," I said between short puffs while trying to hold my stomach in. "Let's try the coat."

You can't believe how blue serge can shrink. I struggled both arms in, but I couldn't get the buttons anywhere near the buttonholes.

"Maybe I can make the buttons and make a single breasted coat out of it," suggested my wife.

"A single breasted Chief Petty Officer's uniform coat?" I asked? "Don't be ridiculous."

"Wow," said the boy. "Look at all those ribbons. Were you a hero,addy?"

"All of us we, in our own ways," I answered, trying to stand tall.

"What's that ribbon for, Dad?"

"That's the World War II Victory medal," I answered proudly.

"Wow," he said, heading for the door. "Nobody in our class has a dad that was in World War II. We studied that in history."

The thin was, I don't know if he was putting me on. But no I just have to get down to uniform size. It's a matter of principle.

Padres to End Season in SF

The Padres' final three outings of the season will be in San Francisco against the Giants, Friday through Sunday. The first contest with the Bay Area club is slated for the evening while the final two encounters will be afternoon affairs.

At one time, the final two Padre games on Saturday and Sunday, October 1-2 were to have been televised live back to San Diego via XETV (Channel 6), but the station cancelled the two broadcasts when they added a couple of other games during mid-season to keep the entire package at 14 games.

"What we are really shooting for now is to go out on a high note," said Padres manager Alvin Dark. "Even though you can sit back during the winter and think about all the negative points, it's always nice to finish out the season on a winning note. That way you've at least got something positive in your mind as you head out for the year."

Youth Wrestling Class

A 10 weeks free wrestling class is being organized for children 6 to 14 years old. The class will meet each Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., in the Mt. Miguel High Wrestling Room. Registration will be on the first night of class on October 11. Dale Sison will be the coach.

Bridge Cards Depict Professional Athletes

Unique playing cards that graphically depict some of today's and yesterday's greatest professional athletes through superb artist's drawings will be introduced by Cubic Corporation's SPORTS DECK Division when the 1977 World Series begins next month.

Some of the athletes whose sketches appear on the backs of SPORTS DECK cards have added to the drama and excitement of the World Series over the years. Names, for example, like Johnny Bench, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Mickey Mantle and Stan Musial.

The first production of cards also features these other noted athletes: Arthur Ashe, Bobby Clarke, Ben Crenshaw, Lee Elder, Phil Esposito, Chuck Foreman, Gordie Howe, Randy Jones, Billie Jean King, C. E. "Butch" Metzger, Joe Namath, Arnold Palmer, Sandra Palmer, Oscar Robertson, Pete Rose, Tom Seaver, Ken Stabler, Bart Starr, Frank Tanana, Fran Tarkenton and Lee Trevino.

Chargers Greet Bengals For Sun. Home Opener

The Chargers open their home season at 1 p.m. Sunday with the Cincinnati Bengals as guests. The Chargers come off two opening games on the road; they evened their record 1-1 by defeating Kansas City 23-7 September 25 in Arrowhead Stadium. The Bengals are 1-1 after 2 home games with a 13-3 loss to Cleveland and a 42-20 victory over Seattle.

The game will be aired on radio KSDO (1130).

In the lifetime series Cincinnati leads 5-4. The Bengals' last victory was 47-20 at Riverfront Stadium December 21, 1975. The Chargers' last victory was 20-17 September 22, 1974. That game, the second for Tommy Prothro as head coach of the Chargers represented one of the more distinctive accomplishments in Chargers history.

The Chargers went into the contest as two-touchdown underdogs and trailed 17-13 with 11:58 remaining in the game and with a first down on their two-yard line. The Chargers marched to the winning touchdown in 10 plays. Running back Don Woods, a rookie from New Mexico who had been acquired on waivers from Green Bay 10 days before, helped set up the winning score with a 21-yard run on his first carry as a professional.

Last Week

Last week the Chargers had drives stall at the Kansas City 33, 14, 22, 15, 9, and 16-yard lines but were able to overcome what coach Tommy Prothro termed a "very spasmodic" performance with solid defense. They held the Chiefs to 147 total yards and sacked quarterback Mike Livingston and Tony Adams 5 times for 41 yards in losses. Johnny Rodgers returned 7 punts for 130 yards, almost matching the Chiefs' offense. Rookie running back Clarence Williams, a fifth-round draft choice from the University of South Carolina, carried 9 times for 88 yards. Williams' performance equaled the total amassed by Tony Reed of the Chiefs the week before and is most by a rookie running back in the NFL this season through games of September 25. Reed gained 26 yards in 13 carries against the Chargers.

Wrong Way

Defensive end Leroy Jones of the Chargers scored his first professional touchdown with a 17-yard run of an intercepted pass that was caused by end John Lee's tackle of Livingston. Jones began his trip the wrong way ("I was setting up my blockers," he said, smiling).

After circling toward the opposite goal, cornerback Mike Williams hollered, "Jones, other way! Other way!" The 6-foot-8 inch, 274-pound Jones, a second year NFL player, broke a couple tackles and barged into the end zone.

"I used to run a little," says Leroy, recalling his days as a fullback at Amanda Elzy High in Greenwood, Mississippi.

The Charger Backers' first home game luncheon will be Friday at 11:30 a.m. in the San Diego Stadium Sports Club. Players Louie Kelcher, Leroy Jones, Clarence Williams, and John Lee will be guests with coach Tommy Prothro. Jones, Kelcher, Williams and Lee will receive gift certificates from Dow Sound City. They were honored as players of the week and line-men of the week for their performances in the first two games of the season.

Al Heim, director of public relations for the Bengals, will be a special guest.

Next Week

The Chargers play at New Orleans Oct. 9 and then return home to meet the New England Patriots at 1 p.m. Oct. 16.

'Bikini Girls' Come to Back M.B. Wrestler

Wrestling fans can also enjoy baseball Tuesday night.

The S.D. Coliseum program has been set for 8:30 p.m. a time at which the playoff game of the day should be completed.

The grappler feature will be Black Gorman who has proclaimed himself King of the Mexican Death Matches after beating Texas Red last week and Chavo Guerrero the week before.

But there's a twist. He'll have to battle the real king of Mexican wrestlers — Mil Mascaras who is being imported from Mexico City. Mascaras is not only a top wrestler but a movie star as well.

As a co-feature, there'll be the Incredible Buster Durant of Mission Beach who will bring with him a supporting beach audience of nearly a thousand — many of them bikini-type girls.

But they are something of an impediment, sometimes, says Danny Millsap, Coliseum promoter. "The girls watch the westerns and the wrestlers watch the girls. The wrestlers who keep their minds on wrestling usually win."

Incredible will meet El Negro.

Three other bouts round out the card.

School Programs For Preschoolers

The La Mesa-Spring Valley Child Development Center at 8100 Orange ave., La Mesa, has 10 openings for preschoolers and kindergartners of working parents.

The Center operates 5 days a week, year-long 7 a.m.-6 p.m. The phone is 469-6171.

Also, there are openings for children 3½-5 years of age in the District's State Preschool program.

Openings are at La Mesa Dale Elementary school with classes at 8:30-11:50 and 11:15-2:30.

schemes. Raw materials and certain basic equipment are purchased as back-up to in-plant production or to finish final product at home in a garage or basement. The company will buy back, on a piecework basis, all "acceptable" finished items. Sales are assured through a national retail outlet. The business never buys back anything and eventually goes out of business.

Dr. McLaughlin said that some patients come to methadone clinics in severe physical distress which frequently is accompanied by vomiting. The "patients" would clutter up the limited parking areas as they stand about waiting for treatment, he said.

"These clinics are historically established in center city locations where most of the addicts live. I have no knowledge of another methadone clinic being established in a suburban area."

office to assure him of her integrity.

"Max Goodwin had an article on that very thing in his Lemon Grove Review (and Spring Valley Bulletin)," her friend said. "He called it the 'pigeon drop' and told how a Lemon Grove woman had been bilked out of $7,000."

That upset the woman with $17,000 in her purse. "What do I do now?" she asked her friend.

"Call the Sheriff," she was advised.

"Not until I redeposit my money," she said.

Detective Dick Rabell of the Sheriff's Fraud Detail was assigned to the case. He rushed to the scene but the suspect, being smart cookies, had fled. They probably felt something had gone awry because it took their pigeon so long to get the money.

Rabell unearthed some good leads but at press time the "pigeon dropper" had not been located.

But there is a Lemon Grove woman who is grateful that her friend subscribes to the local newspaper. For a moment of her past-the-middle age life her life savings had shrunk to zero.

Rabell reminds that anyone is viewed as a victim for the pigeon drop rip-off and should call him immediately at 236-2951.

Ask Your C.H.P.

CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

Last week's question came from a bicyclist regarding driving rules. Captain Douglas told the inquirer traffic rules such as stop signs must be obeyed by bicyclists. Cyclists also must yield to pedestrians.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It may save a citation — or even your life.

Write in care of this newspaper. You don't have to sign the letter and please allow at least three weeks for the reply to appear.

This Week's Question:

Is the California Highway Patrol still in charge of traffic control now that Lemon Grove is a city?

This Week's Answer:

No, the CHP will provide traffic enforcement until June 30, 1978. Due to the high level of service given by the Highway Patrol and the past record of experience in Lemon Grove, the Department is hopeful that the City of Lemon Grove will contract with the CHP to continue its high level of performance in traffic enforcement.

Security Alarms Booklet

You are at someone's house. You all leave to go to dinner, and your friend is locking up. And one of the locks is not even in the door. What is going on?

Your friend probably has a home security alarm to protect the house while it's empty or when the occupants are asleep.

If you are interested in learning more about these alarm systems, the National Bureau of Standards has a new pamphlet that tells you about the different types and methods of reporting a break-in, approximate costs, and installation and maintenance.

For your copy of "Home Security Alarms," send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 676E, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Luce Elected CCLL President

S.D. Federal Savings and Loan Assn. president Gordon C. Luce has been elected president of the California Savings and Loan League at the annual convention in Honolulu.

CSLL represents 154 savings and loan institutions with more than 2,100 branches with assets of $77 billion. A substantial part of money is held in home mortgages, thus playing an important role in the economic life of California.

Luce said it is essential for savers and home-buyers that savings and loan continue the authority they have to pay higher interest on regular savings accounts than banks can pay.

Under Luce's leadership since 1969 S.D. Federal Savings and Loan assets have almost quintupled and the number of its offices rose from 4 in S.D. to 48 throughout the state.

Celebs to Attend Rancho Book Fair

S.D. Union sports editor Jack Murphy, bandleader Lawrence Welk and author Marguerite Henry will be guests and autograph their books at the Rancho Santa Fe Library Guild's annual Book Fair in the library on Avenida de Aca-

The fair, scheduled 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, offers a variety of bestsellers, fiction and non-fiction books, autographed copies and rare volumes. The guest authors will sign copies of their books Saturday morning.

Alcohol Research Center Proposed

A UCLA proposal to establish a research center on alcoholism was accepted recently by the California State Office of Alcoholism. Enabling legislation for such a center was passed and signed by the Governor late in 1975.

The center will study the causes of alcohol related problems and evaluate possible solutions from social, behavioral and social policy perspectives.

The location of the center in Southern California will also assist that study of alcoholism in diverse ethnic groups and a variety of rural and urban settings.

SCIENCE OF MIND STUDY GROUP

Accident Reduction Focus Of CHP Truck Spot Checks

Increased mechanical reliability of commercial vehicles is the objective of a new California Highway Patrol inspection procedure which began this month.

The program has been dubbed TARP (for Truck Accident Reduction Program), and it involves a specialized inspection format which pinpoints "critical items."

These include brakes, air system, wheels, tires, steering, and drawbars (or fifth wheels).

The year-long effort will reach trucks at unusual locations — such as roadside rests — as well as the typical CHP inspection points — truck terminals and scale facilities.

CHP Commissioner Glen Craig said the program "grew out of a study conducted in 1975-76 within two of our divisions."

"We looked at 2,893 accidents involving trucks," Craig said, "and found that trucks were at fault a high percentage of the time. The major mechanical contributors were brake, tire, wheel and drawbar violations."

"We think it is time to concentrate our inspection procedures; to isolate these critical factors and make a point of identifying the really serious problems."

The CHP's regular inspections, such as those performed at major scale facilities and at truck terminals, won't be discontinued. But some hours will be shifted into the special program.

Seventy roving commercial officers will conduct critical items inspection wherever they find trucks, in parking areas, rest stops and other safe stopping areas.

Personnel assigned to fixed inspection facilities will spend up to 10 percent of their time on off-site inspections.

"Our sampling showed that 12.9 percent of truck-caused accidents directly or indirectly resulted from brake faults," Craig added, "another 2.8 percent involved tire problems, and roughly 3.6 percent involved wheel, drawbar, fifth wheel or steering problems."

"By concentrating on these factors, we think the accident reduction payoff will be proportionately higher," the CHP Commander explained.

Craig said the Highway Patrol will coordinate the cities to develop inspection points within incorporated limits. A number of trucks operate within city boundaries and "never reach a fixed inspection point."

Saturday Concert Stars Andy Crow

Organist-pianist Andy Crow will make his first appearance in San Diego Saturday. His concert will be at 8 p.m. at Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

Crow is as fine a pianist as he is organist and for many years has toured the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Australia and Europe in concert. He has been instrumental in the design of a large electronic organ manufacturer's theatre instrument line.

He operates two theatres of his own in Olympia, and has designed electronic organs.

In Lemon Grove he will be playing a Rodgers Trio Theatre Organ for the concert which will include old standards, pops, light classical and well-known favorites. The organ console will be on stage for maximum visibility. The sing-along and silent movie will not be on this program. Tickets are $3.

tion point."

"We hope to provide the critical items inspection for them as well," he reiterated.

One goal of the program, Craig continued, is encouraging "commercial vehicle operators to take a closer look at their own equipment, particularly these critical items. We think more can be accomplished through voluntary efforts than enforcement."

DMV Late Penalty Cut 60 Percent

The Department of Motor Vehicles has reduced the penalty rate for late vehicle registrations to 20 percent, the result of legislation which became effective in August.

The penalty had been 50 percent.

DMV Deputy Director Doris Alexis explained that under the reduced penalty schedule, if, for example, a motorist's fees came to $80 for an automobile the 20 percent penalty will be $16 plus the $80 fee, making it $96 due.

Prior to August 20, the penalty was 50 percent. That would have added $40 to the $80 fee making it $120. The reduction amounts to 60 percent.

Registration renewal fees include a flat $11 registration fee plus a vehicle license fee based on the vehicle's value. Vehicles registered with commercial plates are also charged a weight fee based on the unladen weight of the vehicle. The 20 percent penalty applies to the total amount, rounded to the nearest dollar.

Penalty for late registration of vessels and off-highway vehicles remains at 50 percent.

The action results from urgency legislation introduced by Assemblyman William Thomas of Bakersfield, supported by DMV.

Alexis said that many of the late renewals were the result of confusion over the conversion from year-end to year-round registration.

"The objective of a penalty is to seek timely renewal and should be only as stringent as needed to obtain compliance," Alexis said. "The 50 percent penalty seemed excessive. No other tax carries as heavy a penalty for late payment," she noted.

Under the department's year-round registration schedule, renewal deadlines occur on a staggered basis within each month. Renewal notices are mailed approximately 30 days before a vehicle's registration expires. To avoid penalties, all renewal fees must be paid in full on or before the expiration date. If a deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, fees may be paid without penalty on the first working day after the expiration date.

Alexis cautioned that even if a renewal notice is not received, "It is the owner's responsibility to renew a registration on time." The stickers on the rear license plate indicate the month and year the vehicle's registration expires. The registration card carried in the vehicle lists the actual day of expiration. Fees may be paid by mail or in person at any of DMV's 147 offices.

Mills' Bill to Add

One Cent to Gas Tax

Legislation by Senate President Pro Tem James R. Mills, D-San Diego, permitting voters to impose a one-cent local gasoline tax in seven of the state's most populous counties has gone to the governor for his consideration. The measure is Senate Bill 213.

Funds raised by such a tax could be used for construction and maintenance of mass transit guideways and exclusive bus lanes, on freeways, purchase of rolling stock for those facilities and payment of voter-approved bonds.

Counties where the tax could be imposed are San Diego, Alameda, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Sacramento, San Mateo and Santa Clara. These are counties which have already approved use of some gasoline tax revenue for transit purposes under Proposition 5 (1974).

In San Diego the voting boundaries would be those of the Metropolitan Transit Development Board.

MEET CARLO'S SON — This puppy is one of 12 bred by a champion Saint Bernard from Switzerland, Sherrin Carlo Von Burgenstock. The father and his pups will be among the dogs featured in the Rare Breed Dog Show at San Diego Country Estates on Sunday. The show is from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dog Show Stars Rare Breeds

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES — The First Annual San Diego Country Estates Rare Breed Dog Show will be held at this resort community Sunday.

The public is invited to attend the day-long event.

More than a dozen time-honored rare breeds of the world's finest dogs including Pharaoh Hounds, Otter Hounds, Chinese Cresteds, Bichon-Fries, Rhodesian Ridgebacks, Japanese Akitas, Scottish Deerhounds and others will be on display at the East Lawn of Ramona Oaks starting at 10.

In addition there will be an exhibition by the Daring Dobermans of Hollywood, a Kids' Dog Show, a dog obedience demonstration, competitive dog hurdles races (poodles vs. shepherds), working police dogs including two bomb detection dogs and Hollywood movie dogs.

Karl Spitz, famous Hollywood movie dog trainer, will bring the Daring Dobermans from the movie by the same name and other famous dogs including "Sam" and Paco, as well as a Patsy Award winning cat, all from the Frank Inn Kennels.

The Kids' Dog Show will be open to youngsters age 14 and under and their dogs.

Tramway Locale For Bionic Man

Universal City Studios recently completed filming of an upcoming episode of the popular television series, "The Six Million Dollar Man," at the Palm Spring Aerial Tramway. The cast included Lee Majors in the starring role of Steve Austin, the "Bionic Man."

A cast and crew of over 90 persons used the Tramway for two and one-half days to complete this unusual episode.

The climax of the film calls for the "Bionic Man" to precariously walk from the Tram's highest tower along the cables to the "stalled" Tram car.

This feat, usually reserved for a stunt double, was performed by Majors. Unlike most leading men, Majors prefers to do his own stunt work.

The show may be seen on TV 10 on Sundays.

Picnic for Supply Group

Supply Corps officers and their dependents are invited to attend a family picnic at Admiral Baker Field 11 a.m. October 1. The event, sponsored by the S.D. Navy Supply Corps Assn. will be highlighted by a baseball game between Fleet and Shore Supply Corps. For reservation call Brian Hogan 437-2321 or Len Griffin 437-2621.

Parents Follow Student Skeds At School Nite

All Mount Miguel High School parents are invited to attend "Back-to-School" night on Wednesday, beginning at 7 p.m.

Parents should plan to spend approximately 2½ hours of the evening at the school following the schedules that their children maintain during the day.

Students should provide parents with a copy of their schedules in advance through flimsies filled out in a second period class.

In each class, teachers will be prepared to discuss course content, course requirements, present special projects, and other information.

Because this is an evening to include all visiting parents, teachers will not have time to discuss individual student grades or achievement. Parents can make appointments to meet with teachers during the regular school day to deal with individual problems.

Principal Lois Nossaman said, "We urge parents to become involved because school is only as strong as the parents' personal involvement. We hope to see all parents at our traditional 'Back-to-School' night."

Maps of the campus will be provided with the schedule of classes for the evening at the meeting in the cafeteria.

Crime Resistance Begins at Home

Think about the shock, the heartbreak and the anger that you would experience if you came home one evening and found that your residence had been burglarized.

Think about your valuables — including momentos that you've collected and cherished over the years — being stolen or wantonly destroyed.

Think about the possibility of walking in on a burglar while he was ransacking your home at night!

You could very well become a victim of burglary.

Most burglars won't take a second look at a house or apartment that appears to be occupied.

To discourage these criminals from selecting your residence as a target, consider using the following anti-burglary procedures to help create the impression that someone's home when you're out during the day or evening — Don't leave messages of the door's mailbox indicating your absence.

Use electric timers to turn house lights and a radio on and off during evening hours — Enlist the help of neighbors to keep mail, newspaper, and ads from collecting while you are away.

Remember that unattended yards and unmowed lawns over an extended period of time are signs that the residents might be away.

Consider also that when empty trash cans or when trash cans are set out on collection day, it is an indication that the resident might not be home.

Advise your local police as well as a reliable neighbor when your home will be unoccupied for any length of time and where you can be reached.

In addition to these crime resistance tips, your local police may have other useful anti-burglary suggestions.

Automated Welfare

Welfare checks are now being computed by an Automated Case Budgeting (ABC) system at the County of San Diego Department of Public Welfare.

The new system, designed to increase efficiency and reduce errors, automatically calculates the amount of the welfare grant and mails notices, action forms to welfare recipients. Studies to determine exact extent of savings to county in administrative costs with the use of the new system will begin in October.

Autumn's Color

Preserve autumn's array of color by bringing fall leaves indoors. Capture dried leaves' beauty by pinning them in salad oil and ranging with pumpkins, gourds, or dried flowers.

Your table will be dressed with the lasting colors of fall.

'Marx Writers' Opens Tuesday At Old Globe

A world professional premiere will open the Old Globe Theatre's 41st season in San Diego. "The Last of the Marx Brothers Writers" will be staged for a 5 week engagement opening Tuesday. Producing Director Craig Noel is directing the new farce-drama for 35 performances through November 6.

Playwright Louis Phillips has traveled to San Diego from his New York home to spend the final week of rehearsal with the production. Phillips is the author of several other produced plays, a comic novella, children's books and numerous poems published in respected publications.

Character actor Victor Buono will portray the central role of Jimmy Bruce, a former comedy writer for the Marx Brothers films. He is isolated from reality in a cheap Hollywood hotel room. The tragedy of his life is revealed through a series of hilarious fantasies involving his former wife, the Marx brothers and other characters in his past.

Buono is best known for his work in numerous leading dramatic television shows including the villain in the new series "The Man from Atlantis." His most recent west coast stage appearances have included "The Guardsman" starring Maggie Smith and Brian Bedford and as Falstaff in "Henry IV, part 1" at the Mark Taper Forum. Buono was nominated for an Academy Award for his first film appearance in "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?"

A native San Diegan, Buono has appeared at the Old Globe Theatre in 14 major roles with the National Shakespeare Festival and four contemporary plays since 1956.

Sandy McCallum will portray a variety of characters appearing sporadically in the fantasies of the comedy writer. McCallum previously appeared in 13 productions of the Old Globe's National Shakespeare Festival and acted in numerous productions in leading regional theatres throughout the U.S.

The former actress and wife of the writer will be portrayed by Carole Marget. Her role develops from a scatterbrained ingenue to a drug addicted mentally disordered hospital patient. Marget has portrayed leading roles in 5 previous Old Globe productions. Other parts in the farce-tragedy will be portrayed by Larry Ohlson and Edwin L. Kotula.

The single run-down hotel room is the setting for "The Last of the Marx Brothers Writers."

Quick Response Jails Youthful Pursesnatcher

Quick response by Sheriff's deputies of the Lemon Grove office resulted in the apprehension of a young purse snatcher last week.

Police turned over to juvenile authorities a San Diego youth, 16, who attacked Regina Theresa MacLannan of Canton dr. shortly before 9 p.m.

Mrs. MacLannan, together with her daughter Regina Louise, 18, were returning from shopping when the youth ran by from the rear, grabbing her shoulder purse as he passed.

She held on to her purse but was pulled to the ground and dragged several feet.

The youth turned yelling "I'll get you. I'll get you" and kicked her several times. He was unable to loosen her hold on the purse.

Meanwhile, her daughter ran to a nearby residence and called her police.

Records show that the call was made at 9:08 p.m. The alert was put on the air at 9:09 and a patrol car was on the scene at 9:12. The unit was in the area at the time.

The youth was apprehended within a block of the attack. Mrs. MacLannan suffered a cut on her knee and abrasions. Evidence indicated that the youth has sniffed a hallucinatory substance.

What You Should Know

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Learning Disabilities

A school age child who fails to read or achieve in spelling and mathematics despite normal intelligence and adequate educational opportunities have a learning disorder.

"Why can't my child read?" is a common question for the physician, the California Medical Association reports.

Reading disorders are estimated to occur in 10-15 percent of all school age children with a higher percentage recorded in poor socioeconomic areas.

Contributing factors to school failure include readiness (the child lags in maturation of needed skills), unfamiliarity with English, difficulty accepting limits and tolerating frustration, chronic illness, frequent moves, and the fear of failure.

Boys are affected with learning disorders about four times more frequently than girls and among children with both learning disorders and problems of attention, boys outnumber girls eight to one.

The Problems

Children with learning disorders also may have any or all of the following problems.

- Short Attention Span. This includes the so-called "hyperactive" child who has difficulty sitting in one place and concentrating on one thing at a time.

- Fine Motor Incoordination. The child may have difficulty forming letters, printing on a line, or even tying his or her shoes.

- Gross Motor Incoordination. The child may be poor in such activities as throwing or catching a ball. He or she may have a tendency to fall, run into objects, and inaccurately judge distances.

- Perceptual Problems. Visual perception involves basic skills required in the reading process — the ability to recognize a written symbol, orient it on the page and be able to reproduce it on paper. Auditory perception — which involves the recognition, interpretation and reproduction of the spoken sound or word — may be impaired.

- Language and Speech. The child who is slow to acquire language or who cannot enunciate clearly when approaching school age is at higher risk of having learning problems.

The Solutions

- 1) Check with your child's teacher to learn the details of his or her behavior and achievement in school. Many schools have staff psychologists or counselors who can test the child and advise you whether further examination is necessary.

- 2) When a significant learning problem is present, consult your physician.

- 3) Following assessment of a learning disability, a specific education program should be prescribed for the child, and the parents may be shown ways in which they can be involved.

Occasionally the physician may recommend a trial of some medication to help the child to focus his or her attention. The use of such medication is controversial, but some children will improve their attention spans which may help with school achievement.

Other methods of treatment that have been tried for learning disorders include special diets, large doses of vitamins, exercises and visual training. These treatments are highly controversial, and there is no evidence that they are helpful in improving learning ability.

4) Many children who have experienced school failure have emotional problems related to that failure. Providing them with opportunities for success is essential. Psychotherapy and/or family therapy is often recommended.

The outcome of therapy varies with the child and the nature of the problem.

Generally, the perceptual skills which may impair early school reading improve as the child matures.

The majority of children with attentional problems also seem to improve as they become older.

L.G. Real Estate Firm Grows Again

SGS Real Estate Co., Inc., a realty firm based in Lemon Grove, has opened its 10th sales office — this one in Pacific Beach at 4640 Jewel st.

The 10-year old firm began in Lemon Grove and has grown throughout the San Diego area during the past decade.

SGS serves Lemon Grove and Spring Valley at 8100 Broadway, Lemon Grove, which is also the realty's business and escrow offices.

SGS has continued to bolster its sales staff since April 1977 when it announced at 100% commission program for its sales associates. Under the concept, each SGS associate shares the cost of operating the business and in return earns the total commission on his transactions.

'Out-of-Town' Money Aids Local Heart Study

Local "Heart" research continues to attract county, state, and national Heart Fund Dollars, according to Dr. Gerald Person, president of the S.D. County Heart Assn.

"On the local level, more than $96,000 have been allocated to nine investigators at three institutions," said Dr. Person. "They are Robert Dworschack, Ph.D.; James Hayes, Ph.D.; Christian Drevon, MD; Muhammad Ashraf, Ph.D.; Elvin Harper, Ph.D.; and Stephen Gross, Ph.D. all of UCSD School of Medicine; Robert Bloch, Ph.D. and Aileen Ritchie, Ph.D. of the Salk Institute, and Charles Higgins, MD of University Hospital."

Ventura and the Central California Heart Assn. in Fresno are assisting in the funding of the research projects conducted by Harper and Higgins.

"Also on the local level, our Heart Association will be providing $1,000 stipends to two college students who will be working for ten weeks next summer at the San Diego Zoo Hospital," Dr. Person said.

"This represents an increase in the usual $750 stipend we have awarded these summer student researchers in past years."

In addition, the local Heart Association will provide $750 stipends for six college students who will be working next year in the California Heart Assn. summer research project conducted throughout the state.

"During fiscal year 1977-78, the American Heart Association will be funding San Diego research projects in excess of $250,000," Dr. Person said.

Vacation Burglar

An intruder scored the window glass above the latch and entered the residence of William Carter Frontis of 3303 Del Charro rd. in Spring Valley while he was on vacation.

On Labor Day, when he returned, he began inventorying his loss which included jewelry and clothing. The jewelry loss alone accounted for $800 loss. The rest of the loss will be reported later.

Combo Auction To Be Held In December

The third annual COMBO television auction will be aired in December by three major San Diego television stations, Channel 10 (KGTV), Channel 8 (KFMB-TV), and Channel 39 (KCST-TV).

The hot weather electricity mountain. Leveling its peak can save us all some money.

In the hot weather, more people use more electricity between 10am and 6pm than during any other time of day. That creates a peak on the mountain of electricity SDG&E needs to provide every day.

That peak can create a costly problem. Right now it means using less efficient generating facilities. In the future, adding expensive new generating facilities.

Level the peak and save. There are lots of things you can do to help level the peak. You can help hold down rising electricity costs and you can save on your own bill too.

Air conditioning, the biggest user. The biggest cause of the hot weather peak is the use of air conditioners during the hottest part of the day.

Turn your air conditioner to low. Just 5° warmer than where it's now set could cut your operating costs 20% to 25%. In addition to helping level the hot weather peak.

Swimming pools. Your pool is another big user during the peak demand period. A pool filter pump can gobble up 13 kilowatt hours in one 11 hour day. Reduce your pool's filtering time and do your filtering at night instead of during the daytime peak.

You can also help your filter run more efficiently, by keeping grids and leaf baskets clean. And by skimming your pool surface frequently.

Shift electricity use when you can. Whenever you can, do things that require electricity before 10am or after 6pm. Baking, ironing, running the dishwasher, washing and drying clothes can often be shifted with little effort. You'll be helping to level the peak. Your home will feel cooler and your air conditioner won't have to work as hard.

Leveling the peak on the hot weather electricity mountain can do a lot to hold down the rising costs of electricity. You'll be helping us all to save some money. Now and in the future.
